9:00 – 9:15 a.m. Break

9:15 – 9:30 a.m. Welcome and opening remarks
Presenters: Ted Wymyslo, MD, Chief Medical Officer, Ohio Association of Community Health Centers and Co-Chair, OPCPCC
Amy Acton, MD, MPH, Director – Ohio Department of Health

9:30 – 10:30 a.m. Keynote: “Addressing Social Determinates of Health in Primary Care Practice: Possibilities and Pitfalls”
Presenter: Deena Chisolm, PhD, Director of the Center for Innovation in Pediatric Practice and Vice President for Health Services Research at Nationwide Children’s Hospital
Summary: This presentation will include discussion of the literature on current approaches to screening and referral, sharing of results from Nationwide Children’s Hospitals SDH screening approach, and looking ahead to where the field is headed in terms of policy, technology, and outcomes.
10:30 – 11:30 a.m  “The EveryONE Project: Advancing Health Equity in Every Community”
Presenter: Gary LeRoy, MD, FAAFP, President of American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP) Board of Directors
Summary: SDoH such as economic instability, environment, education, and social connections can lead to significant health care inequities. Because primary care teams work with people affected by SDOH every day, the AAFP developed a comprehensive package of tools called The EveryONE Project for physicians and their care teams to better address these factors in practice. Using case studies and implementation strategies, Dr. LeRoy will share how teams can use these tools in everyday practice to achieve optimal health for everyone, especially those in disparate populations.

11:30 – 11:45 a.m  Break

11:45 - 12:30 p.m.  “Social Determinants of Health and the PCMH”
Presenter: Kierra Barnett, MPH, Graduate Research Associate at the Kirwan Institute for the Study of Race and Ethnicity
Summary: SDoH are the circumstances in which people are born, grow up, live, work, and age, and the wider set of forces and systems shaping the conditions of daily life. While health care contributes to approximately 20 percent of population health, these SDoH contribute to 50 percent (with the remaining 30 percent associated with health behaviors). This presentation will discuss influences that shaped SDoH and describe how the PCMH primary care practice can work toward equitable health care by addressing SDoH.

12:30 – 1:15 p.m.  Lunch

1:15 – 2:15 p.m.  “Pathways Community HUB Model: A Whole person Approach to Improving Outcomes”
Presenter(s): Sarah Redding, MD, MPH and Mark Redding MD
Summary: The Pathways Community HUB Model is an evidence-based, population-focused, pay-for-performance care coordination model that identifies and addresses the comprehensive array of interrelated risk factors experienced by targeted populations within a defined geographic area. The HUB engages local community-based organizations within the health care delivery system via a sustainable managed care, public health and related multi-funder financing infrastructure to coordinate efforts and standardize metrics among local community health workers. The Pathways Community HUB Model and impact on health outcomes and cost savings will be discussed during this presentation.
2:15 – 3:30 p.m.  Panel Discussion – “SDOH and Primary Care - Practical Applications and Resources”
Moderator: Jenelle Hoseus, MBA, Executive Director, Central Ohio Pathways HUB
